

Is It Deposit-Dearing?

Please take note of the following beverage products for which we receive many inquiries.

	 Pedialyte – Electrolyte Beverage Electrolyte beverages are deposit-bearing since April 1, 2020.	 Hydralyte - Electrolyte Beverage Electrolyte beverages are deposit-bearing since April 1, 2020.	 5-hour ENERGY – Energy Drink Energy drinks are deposit-bearing.
	 Boost Complete Nutrition - Formulated Liquid Diet Sports/performance and diet type drinks which are not required to have a deposit must be labelled specifically either as a meal replacement or a formulated liquid diet. Label clearly indicates this is a formulated liquid diet.	 Ensure Complete Balanced Nutrition - Meal Replacement Sports/performance and diet type drinks which are not required to have a deposit must be labelled specifically either as a meal replacement or a formulated liquid diet. Label clearly indicates this is a meal replacement.	 Slim Fast Original - Meal Replacement Sports/performance and diet type drinks which are not required to have a deposit must be labelled specifically either as a meal replacement or a formulated liquid diet. Label clearly indicates this is a meal replacement.